School board considers well pump repairs again

By BRENT MACEY

The Hancock County School Board Saturday continued to wrestle with a broken pump problem at Charles B. Murphy Elementary School and eventually decided to implement the same plan it decided to follow last Monday.

Haddock called the board's attention to two state laws which he said might save the district from having to obtain cost quotes on replacing the pump.

The law would have enabled the district to repair an existing pump on the well and also pay an outstanding installation cost incurred when the pump was installed three months ago.

However, after Board Attorney Jody Gex read the law aloud, both Gex and the board decided the law was not pertinent to school boards and was only applicable to state executives.

The board then restated its former intent to have the pump declared an emergency and directed Haddock to obtain three quotes for having the pump replaced—action they requested of Haddock last Monday.

The board will meet again tomorrow to review those quotes.

In the meantime they are hoping the quotes will be above the outstanding debt owed to Braden Well and Pump Service; the company which installed the pump three months ago.

Apparently if those payments are below Braden's cost for installation, then the low bid will be accepted and Braden's pump will have to be replaced by the low bidder's pump.

In addition, Braden Well will have to be paid for labor expended in replacing the old pump three months ago. Board members feel that labor cost may be some $1,100.

Problems with the pump arose three months ago when former Superintendent Billy D. Sills instructed Braden Well to replace a well pump that broke down during school hours late in the 1981-82 school year.

Although Sills' action enabled school to continue after one-half a day's disruption, the board never received competitive bids and never declared the situation an emergency—two requirements of state law for repair work exceeding $1,500.

Since neither of those legal requirements were followed at that time, the board feels payment to Braden for his work might be labeled illegal by the State Officials.

Also at the meeting, the board, agreed to have a group automobile insurance policy covering employees in the district be combined to include teachers in the Bay St. Louis School District.

Tommy Brooks, a insurance salesman with Nationwide Insurance, informed the board that the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District had wanted to adopt the policy for its employees.

However, the district was not accepted by Nationwide because the school district did not have enough teachers to qualify under a group policy.

By combining both the Bay St. Louis and the Hancock Districts, the group policy will have enough members so that Bay St. Louis can be included, Brooks said.

United Way campaign kickoff event slated

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County United Way will initiate its 18th annual fund raising campaign with an Aug. 31 kick-off breakfast at a Bay St. Louis restaurant.

Pat Harvill of Waveland, breakfast chairperson, Thursday reported Hancock civic and political leaders, major contributors, and past and present United Way volunteer campaign workers, heads of recipient agencies and United Way Board members will soon receive invitations to the second annual event.

The dutch treat breakfast will be at 7:15 a.m. at the Landmark Restaurant on Main Street, she noted.

Harvill said the breakfast program will include a welcome address by Norton Hagg, Sr. of Bay St. Louis, board president; introduction of board of directors and members by Conrad Mautray of Bay St. Louis, United Way executive director; and comments by Louis J. Breaux III of the Sellers Community, 1982 campaign chairman, and recipient agency heads.

The campaign kickoff will mark the official campaign starting date which is the following day, Sept. 1.

The campaign goal of $40,000 and beginning date were recently set by the United Way board.

May Beyer of Bay St. Louis, executive secretary, Friday noted, "We have been operating this annual campaign successfully since 1964 with assistance from many volunteers and contributors."

She also reported unselfish efforts by many local residents as volunteers has allowed the organization to utilize just less than eight percent of donations for campaign expenses.

Beyer also urges anyone interested in becoming a United Way volunteer to telephone her at 467-5358 for more information.

The Hancock United Way contributes to the Hancock County American Red Cross Chapter, Emergency Relief Fund, Blood Bank, Retired Senior Volunteer Program and Senior Citizens Program; Boy Scouts—New Orleans Area Council; Girl Scouts—Gulf Pines District, Catholic Social Services, Gulf Coast Mental Health Center; Firemen's Doll and Toy Fund; Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi, Inc.; Mississippi Council on Epilepsy, Inc.; Salvation Army; and Mississippi Gulf Coast Young Men's Christian Association.

Quality, Eckerd Drugs burglarized this week

By BRENT MACEY

Both Quality Drug and Eckerd Drug in Bay St. Louis were burglarized this week.

Law enforcement officials have arrested one Bay St. Louis man in connection with the Eckerd Drug robbery and suspects are being sought in the Quality drug break-in.

Terry Oliver, 25, of 228 Washington Street was arrested Friday at his house and charged with burglary. He was released later that day on a $5,000 property bond.

According to Delbert Seay, Hancock County Sheriff's Department investigator, drugs estimated to have a street value of between $50,000 and $60,000 were confiscated following the arrest of Oliver.

Seay said 1,547 valium pills and 93 talwin pills were included with other pills also allegedly stolen by Oliver.

Seay and Brenda Anderson, Bay St. Louis Police Auxiliary Police Department assistant chief reported Eckerd Drug in the A@P Shopping Center was burglarized some time Wednesday night.

Seay and Anderson feel Oliver entered the building through an air duct on the roof which led into the drug store.

"He took a ladder from inside the store and climbed back out of the store," Seay said.

Hancock leaders pursue Port Bienville, channel improvements

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors in a special meeting Friday morning accepted two County Port and Harbor Commission recommendations aimed at improving Port Bienville Industrial Park and its access water channel.

Stolen motor recovered in Clermont

By ELLIS CUEVAS

An outboard motor reported stolen on Friday was recovered Saturday morning according to Hancock County Investigator Delbert Seay.

Seay said, "Robert Killeen of Bordages Street in Clermont Harbor reported he was missing a 25 h.p. Evinrude Motor and a six gallon gasoline tank on Friday."

One juvenile was arrested Saturday in connection with the burglary and an adult who was out of town will be arrested when he returns to the county Seay said.

The motor and tank were recovered in the Clermont Harbor area.

Seay also reports some leads in the Thursday night burglary of Crosby and Associates on US-90 where an undetermined amount of cash was taken from a safe. A cutting torch in the store was used to cut open the safe.

Some merchandise was also removed from the store during the burglary, according to police.

Hancock Deputy Dennis Tartavouille is assisting Seay in the investigation of the appliance store burglary.

A. Garner Russell and Associates of Gulfport and James Chiniche of Bay St. Louis are authorized to conduct an $8,000 engineering study of a project to dredge a shoaled-in area in the port access channel at Cross Bayou near the East Pearl River.

W. Wilson Webb, commission executive director, would not reveal the estimated cost of the project at a Thursday night commission meeting because he said "companies bidding on the dredging would submit high quotations if the cost estimate was made public."

He reported although a channel depth of 16 feet is needed to accommodate floating oil rigs to be moved through the port to and from Gonzales Marine Enterprises, the channel will be deepened to 18 feet in anticipation of continued shoaling from the Pearl.

Webb noted other industries at Port Bienville will also need the original channel depth of 16 feet for moving floating structures and barges.

Frankiewicz, a commissioner, at the Thursday meeting said the commission's engineer technician will prepare specifications for dikes at nearby spoil areas.

Webb reported the commission must obtain final approval of the project from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

A. Garner Russell at the Thursday meeting reported preliminary studies indicate some 17,000 cubic feet of silt material will be removed, but their study will allow for 20,000 cubic feet.

Webb said the high estimate would provide leeway in the dredging contract just in case more material must be removed.

Regarding industrial park improvements, the supervisors accepted a commission recommendation to seek a 20-30 matching grant of $80,000 from the State Bureau of Marine Resources in Long Beach for an updated Port Bienville master plan.

Frankiewicz at the commission meeting said the county would receive a $50,000 Special Management Area Grant through the bureau for formulating the plan estimated to cost about $90,000.

In other industrial park developments, Webb revealed International Paper Co. is interested in selling some 65 acres just south of Port Bienville.

Webb said the property includes the Sea Glen Lodge on Mullato Bayou. The commission director said the property cost is estimated at about $150,000.

He said the commission is seeking the property in conjunction with a development plan which calls for expanding port facilities and capabilities.

Oliver Erierson, a commissioner, suggested Webb find out how much of the property is considered undevelopable wetlands.

He estimated about 20 acres of the land could be developed.

Webb noted the acreage is located near a Mississippi Department of Archives and History parcel.

Frankiewicz suggested bureau officials inspect the property to designate wetland areas and the department eye

DUI drivers cause Bay man double trouble

By BRENT MACEY

A Bay St. Louis man whose wife was injured in a major accident allegedly caused by a drunken driver several weeks ago, was in a car wreck himself Monday which was allegedly caused by another driver who was charged with Driving Under the Influence.

Jon E. Blanchette of Bay St. Louis, whose wife Mary Ann Blanchette was injured in a four car accident on the Bay St. Louis bridge recently, was apparently uninjured following an accident on the corner of US-90 and Dumbor Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

Bay St. Louis Auxiliary Assistant Police Chief Brenda Anderson reported Thomas A. Henning, 34, of Biloxi was charged with DUI, reckless driving and no driver's license following the accident.

Anderson reported that Henning was heading west on US-90 when a light at the intersection changed.

She said the car Henning was driving crossed no brake field and Henning apparently tried to avoid other cars entering the intersection by turning right.

Henning failed to negotiate the turn however and stuck Blanchette's car and another car driven by Cynthia Long, also of Bay St. Louis.

The Bay St. Louis crewmen will remove water and gas lines as well as repair sewer lines, according to Bill Johnson, utility department head. ## Supervisors consider renovating building for use as civic center

By BRENT MACEY

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday agreed to consider renovating the Hancock County Fairground Building so it could be used, at times, as a civic center for the entire county.

Following the meeting, Supervisor Sam Perniciaro noted renovation would include laying a tile floor, adding a ceiling, and installing air conditioning.

Both he and supervisor Bert Courge plan to meet with the Hancock County Fairground Commission next week to discuss the matter.

"We would have to see if the commission could schedule the building one or two days a month so they (the general public) could use it," he said.

The idea of renovating the building was proposed by Courge after Hancock Citizens Geraldine Lang and Mary Caillier suggested the county purchase land to construct a civic center for the entire Hancock citizenry.

Lang suggested the county purchase the 100 Men's Club Building in Bay St. Louis or lease 16th Section Land for that purpose.

However, following the meeting, Lang stated she was 'very satisfied' with Courge's proposal to utilize the existing Fairground building.

She noted a civic center could be used as a facility for plays, concerts or speakers.

Perniciaro and Lang both hope some $33 million in Housing Urban Development Funds available to Mississippi could be used for the project.

HGH trustees accepts bid on addition

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The trustees of Hancock General Hospital accepted a bid by George Hopkins Construction Company of Gulfport for a 2,500 square foot addition.

A special meeting was held Friday by the HGH trustees to consider bids received for the addition which will be constructed in an area behind the hospital now occupied by a mobile home.

Only two bids were received by HGH, the other being from Charles Johnson, Inc. of Waveland.

Phil Langston, hospital administrator, said construction will begin within the next few days on the addition which will be used to house the maintenance, materials management operations of the hospital and also provide additional classroom facilities.

Langston stated, "This will enable HGH to expand its physical therapy, respiratory therapy; and in the future, nuclear medicine and ultrasound scanning."

Hopkins' bid was $62,000 with Johnson's at $80,000 for the addition.

Mary M. Perkins, who assumed the new position of community relations officer, submitted her proposal to the trustees on public relations for HGH.

In other business discussed at the special meeting a budget draft was submitted by the hospital administration to the trustees for study for their regular meeting to be held Tuesday.

the land because a crescent-shaped mound, possibly an Indian mound, is located there.

Dave McDonald, a commissioner, agreed with Frankiewicz.

Robert Baxter, a commissioner, said the lodge was built in the early 1930's on top of a circular mound and the area was known as Jackson's Landing and English lookout.

Frierson speculated the circular mound might have been constructed by the English as a earthen fortress for gun emplacements.

He also noted if the property is purchased, not-port-related automobile traffic which must utilize port roads to reach the lodge could be eliminated.

Regarding maintenance dredging of the port's access channel through Little Lake, the board authorized Wehre to request changing the Corps-funded project under the jurisdiction of the Federal Rivers and Harbors Act to a congressionally-approved undertaking.

Wehre said Mississippi congressmen and senators will be notified of the commission's intentions.

He reported the project, apparently under study for some eight years, might be approved sooner and totally funded through congressional action.

The port director said the project's cost has exceeded $2 million based on Corps estimates.

Under the present maintenance dredging plan, Hancock County would have to contribute $1.25 million for the work, Wehre reported.

Coast psychologist emphasizes importance of task evaluation

Evaluation Time

DR. SUSANNAH ANDREWS
A necessary and critical part of any endeavor is having some way of assessing how well one is doing.

Once we establish goals and a purpose for our task, and a way to accomplish this task, it is time to put it into action.

Then, after we have put out ideas into practice, we need to devise some way to assess the success or failure of our actions.

This simple process is called evaluation, and it is being used in businesses, mental health centers, hospitals, and organizations of all sorts to find out if specifically defined goals are being met.

It is a form of "quality control": are people getting what they are paying for? Are there areas of need not being met?

The purpose of my writing these articles is to help others in understanding themselves and their problems, and as a result, to bring some direct relief or hope into their lives.

Into your lives. I would hope that my articles spark your interest and kindle your curiosity, encouraging you to learn more and to seek help when you need it - and to better be able to discern when "you might need professional help."

Now that I have been writing these articles for some time, I am feeling a need for feedback. I would like to know your honest impressions, thoughts, and feelings about the article.

In order that more of you participate and that I not take up too much of your time, I have prepared a brief questionnaire that you could simply tear out, fill in, and mail to my office or to the papers. If you have suggestions as to what you would like to read about, I would like to hear them.

My hope is that through this evaluation process on myself, I will be able to respond to your needs more directly.

It will be helpful for me to assess how well I am doing in meeting my stated purpose and goals.

If you would like to participate, please just complete the following questionnaire. Any other comments you may have would be welcomed, on an additional sheet of paper.

In the following, please circle the number after the statement that fits the way you feel. Number 1 means that you agree; number 2 means that you are uncertain, and number 3 means that you disagree.

Arbor Foundation offering trees

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving three free American Redbud trees to all new foundation members joining during August.

The free Redbud trees are part of the foundation's effort to promote fall tree planting. "Fall is an excellent time to plant trees because the roots establish themselves over the winter and support faster tree growth in the spring," said John Rosenow, foundation executive director.

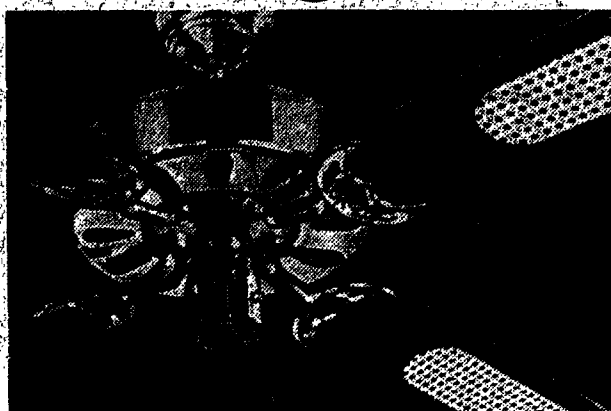

"However the advantages of fall planting are often overlooked. That is why the National Arbor Day Foundation is making this special offer." The American Redbud is an extremely hardy flowering tree with pink blossoms in the early spring. Three three-to-four foot trees will be shipped this fall, postage paid, with enclosed planting instructions. The trees are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free by the foundation.

The foundation, a nonprofit organization which is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting, will give three free Redbud trees to new members contributing $10 or more during August.

To become a member of the foundation, and to receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution should be sent to Free Redbud Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, Arbor Lodge 100, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by August 31, 1982.

Money Talk

By Norine Barnes

If you're looking for ways to cut the cost of being "mobile," you might consider buying a used car. A used car may be a wise choice if:

—you do not travel excessively;

—the car is a second car for the family;

—the car is to be transportation for a teenager;

—you wish to spend a limited amount of money.

The chief item a new car owner faces is depreciation, much of which occurs during the first two years of a car's life.

However, his loss can be your gain. A one-year-old model selling at a third less than the new car price or a two-year-old car selling for half the original cost may just meet your price requirement.

But keep in mind that the fancier the car, the older it may have to be to fit within your price range.

Used cars are available in a variety of conditions. Be sure that a car's condition makes it worth the price. Used cars are available either "as is" or reconditioned.

If you know a car's history and are confident that it has been driven carefully and properly maintained, your chances of a satisfactory buy are good.

If this is not the case, your best protection is the careful selection of a car from a reputable dealer.

Choose the dealer with extreme care.

Your choice may determine whether you are pleased or dissatisfied with your purchase.

Dealers who sell used cars range from reliable, established businesses with competent service departments to the transient "Honest Joe" lots that appear and disappear quickly.

Some points to remember about dealers are:

—Check the reputation before you buy. Call the Chamber of Commerce or the Better Business Bureau.

Established dealers expect to remain in business and are usually concerned about customer satisfaction.

—Dealers with service departments are more likely to offer warranties and to honor them. Lots without service departments usually sell cars "as is."

—Dealers who have well-equipped service departments usually make the repairs needed to put used cars in reasonably good condition before selling them.

—Franchised new car dealers have their own used car lots. They select the best of the cars traded in on new models to sell on their lots. Less desirable "trade-ins" are wholesaled to other lots.

Car salesmen earn their income from commissions on the cars they sell. Some want to help you find the car that best fits your needs. Others are high-pressure salesmen who are anxious to make a sale. Take your time. Do not be pressured into quick decisions. Be wary of "fantastic bargains," gifts, and other pressure tactics.

—Most communities have several reputable automobile dealers. Generally, it is wise to compare two or more dealers.

In harmony with the butterfly, artist's work praises Creator

By JOE PILET

Like a soul possessed, Nadine Stamm, a well-known local artist, has spent most of her waking hours this spring and summer painting flowers, plants, and trees found in the Bay St. Louis area.

Neither gnats, nor bees, nor bugs, nor drizzling rain, nor threat of thunder storm, nor the relentless rays of July and August sun could keep her from her goal.

Stamm is like one who has taken a holy vow—she is dedicated.

Her aim is to record the wonders of nature and in so doing praise the Creator of all things bright and beautiful.

Stamm's work is done in the open. That inverted bowl we people call the sky is the roof of her studio. Her carpet is the thick St. Augustine grass.

Shadows of leaves filtering through the sunlight are her decorations. The songs of the birds, hum of the bees and chirp of crickets provide the music, a special music that is necessary for a certain feeling an artist knows when colors come alive on a canvas and there is perfect harmony.

Creature comforts consist of a well-worn folding chair and broad-brimmed straw hat to break the sun's heat.

An easel isn't needed. She simply props the drawing board on her knee.

This makes it easy to get up, move about, view things from several different directions.

Sometimes while in the midst of painting her flower models change color—or close up. This happens with magnolias, day lilies and roses.

"Birds and bees belong in floral paintings and also butterflies," the artist commented, noting her patrons love her baby jays and the fledgling sparrows.

So in harmony with the frail butterflies, Stamm refuses to capture them for a closer study. Instead she patiently waits for the brief moment when they settle on a close twig or bloom.

Then she marvels as she records the jewel tones seen on their iridescent wings. Wings that seem constantly in motion.

"Every day I pray silently that my work will proclaim the glory of God," Stamm said, adding, "I strive for my art to give the viewer a glow of peace."

"In these troubled times there is a need for the reassurance that beauty is permanent, perpetual."

Flowers, she explained, bring cheer and beauty and their seeds bring promise of next year's beauty.

In Stamm's home are an impressive array of awards such as "best-in-the-show," first place, gift certificates, and so on. An accumulation of 15 competitive years.

Stamm was born in Midland, S.D.

Her father, Oliver Nelson, a cartoon artist of distinction, encouraged her to draw and sketch. "Draw anything," sketch anything and on anything. What's the matter with using a newspaper—get your idea down. Practice," were her father's admonitions.

At the age of 17 she was enrolled in the Chicago Institute of Fine Arts. Of time spent there she says, "I got a good foundation and had excellent instructors who gave encouragement."

Living in Bay St. Louis affords Stamm just the right atmosphere and scenery for sketching and painting sea and sand, herbs, bogs and butterflies, little sea creatures and the fowls along the shore.

Some of her most recent work has been displayed in the City-County Library and at the Pass Christian Seafood Festival.

She will be showing in the forthcoming Harbor Square Art Festival in Gulfport.

UNO summer graduates compared to early explorer

Summer graduates at the University of New Orleans were told that they are "in much the same situation" as Sieur de LaSalle 300 years ago when he explored the Mississippi River—at the threshold of new discoveries and advancements.

Lila J. Radloff of Bay St. Louis was awarded a master of science degree in accounting during UNO's commencement exercises.

Addressing the 309 graduates in UNO's summer commencement exercises, Mrs. Lawrence H. Fox, secretary, Louisiana Department of Culture, Recreation and Tourism, said that although "the land in which we live is no longer the unexplored frontier through which La Salle and his expedition passed," many frontiers still exist.

"When La Salle explored the Mississippi, he undoubtedly was confronted by many instances where Indian cultures had learned to adapt to nature, and within nature, to adapt to the will of the river," she said.

"Progress has brought us to a level of understanding and mastering natural forces which La Salle could never have envisioned and yet we are only at the threshold of many new discoveries and advancements."

"Carry your story forward, both in thought and action, for you have thus far written only an introduction to what lies ahead."

Corps permits Mobile Bay natural gas well facilities

The Mobile District of the Army Corps of Engineers has forwarded permits to Mobil Oil Corporation for construction of production facilities to recover natural gas from Mobile Bay.

The permits are the first for hydrocarbon production from the bay.

The Corps also approved permits for the Exxon Company to drill three exploratory wells in the bay.

The permits, which carry strict conditions designed to prevent dumping of waste materials from the drilling operations, must be accepted by the companies and returned to the District before they take effect.

The permits were approved on July 30 by Col. Robert H. Ryan, head of the Mobile District. At the same time

Ryan deferred issuance of additional exploratory permits to Mobil, Phillips, Shell, and Union Oil pending receipt of additional information from the companies.

Under its production permit Mobil will be allowed to operate up to 20 production wells in the Bay as well as build onshore production facilities.

Hancock's Headstart Centers require additional registration, eligibility documents

Mississippi Action For Progress, Inc. will open its three Hancock County Headstart Centers Monday, Aug. 23.

They include Mt. Zion Center in Pearlington, Catahoula Center in the Catahoula Community, and Bay-Waveland Center on the St. Rose De Lima campus in Bay St. Louis, according to Sullivan Bell, parent involvement and social service aide.

Parents of Prospective Headstart students are required to verify their child's eligibility for enrollment by bringing to the center a certified copy of the child's birth certificate and immunization record.

Medicaid number, if on welfare, proof of income, and Social Security number on each adult member of the household is also required.

"Some parents are under the impression those requirements were met during pre-registration conducted during March and April, but this is not so," Bell stressed. Additional documents and information are needed for enrollment packages to be completed, he said.

Bell said, parents who have contacted the centers since Wednesday, Aug. 11 may disregard this notice.

"We are concerned with the parents whom we have not reached since March and April and urge them to call us, as we have been unable to reach some of them," Bell added.

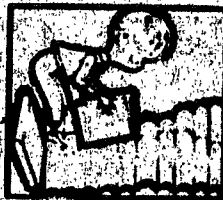

"We will be in the centers daily from here on out except Saturdays and Sundays, with office hours from 7:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., but if you cannot meet this time give us a call and we will be glad to set up an appointment," stated Bell.

"Mt. Zion Center in Pearlington has openings for four children; preferably four, five or six-year-olds. We hope some families have moved in to the vicinity since pre-registration so that these slots can be filled immediately," Bell explained.

Additional information on eligibility may be obtained by calling Mt. Zion Center of Pearlington, 533-7885; Catahoula Center, 255-7312; or Bay-Waveland Center, 467-3285.

Book Review

'Let It Rot!' That's the title of the home gardener's guide to composting. Stu Campbell wrote it and did a very able job of convincing readers of the importance of returning decayed matter to the soil.

The idea is not a new one, in the year 1157 Tusser wrote: "One aker well compost is worth akers three." And our own Walt Whitman said: "It grows such sweet things out of such corruption."

'Let It Rot' gives a list of materials suitable for composting including such garbage as peels, fruit skins and cores, table scraps, grass clippings, leaves and even weeds. The supply of composting material is limitless. Only two things are required: the materials must be biodegradable and must contain things which are usable and available to microorganisms.

Properly composted materials are neither unsightly or smelly and the book gives step by step procedure to insure satisfactory results whether the composting is for a small flower bed or for a farm. It also lists things to be avoided such as aluminum, plastics and cloth. The trick is to keep the materials damp and turn them frequently. The compost should be about the consistency of a "wrung-out-sponge," it explains.

In our area it only takes from four to six months to make superior compost. How do you know when the compost is ready? By color and texture. If it is crumbly, dark in color and has the smell of clean, good earth. In a sense it is even more valuable than actual manure.

Several methods of composting are discussed. The reader will recognize the one best suited to his needs. This book, along with a sizeable collection of gardening books may be found in your City-County public library. Giving back to the land makes it possible to take from it in greater abundance.

'Quilting As A Hobby' is an attractive book by Dorothy Brightbill. The colorful illustrations and large, easy to understand instructions include information on drafting a pattern, cutting the fabric, turning down edges and assembling the design. Quilting as a hobby is gaining popularity, as was evidenced by the excellent display of quilts at our City-County Library during this year's Folk Festival of Arts and Crafts.

"Anyone who can thread a needle can quilt," declared Brightbill and added, "anyone who likes to sew and gets satisfaction from making something beautiful and useful can make a quilt. It is fun."

Quilting is a very old craft. Centuries ago in Egypt, China and Greece people were quilting. Not necessarily covers for beds but garments for warmth and padding to be used under the coat of mail. In the early part of the seventeenth century the trend was quilting for upholstery.

It is interesting to note that during this period in England and in Wales it was the custom to have an itinerant quilter come to the home for several weeks each year to renew the family's stock of quilts. The quilters supplied their own frames, stretched new quilts, mended and rebound old quilts and put things in usable condition.

Today quilting is considered a decorative art and quilting is used for personal adornment, wearing apparel, book covers, pillows, upholstery, lin-cheon sets, and even cafe curtains. Large hoops have, for the most part, replaced the cumbersome frames. Magnifying glasses that can be suspended over the work area are also sight-savers.

'Quilting As A Hobby' shows all the necessary details of quilting at beginners or advanced levels. Why not borrow this book for thirty minutes of easy reading and learn whether quilting should be your hobby, too?

'Decorating With Plants' is a House and Garden Book that can be found on the shelves of your City-County Public Library. It is loaded with pictures in color showing over 200 varieties of plants used in rooms by architects, interior designers, House and Garden editors, and just ordinary talented plant lovers. Plants solve many problems when properly placed.

For example they can filter a light and cut glare. They can form a screen. They can complement art, serve as wall dividers, cut out bleak views and are in their own right living sculpture.

Plants can be used successfully in all areas of the home from the formal living room to the kitchen, porch, or bath. Have you noticed how attractive plants have been successfully used in the Hancock County courthouse lobby to create a cool and serene atmosphere? Leading through 'Decorating With Plants' could help you in making your rooms most attractive.

Musical selections were provided by Mrs. John McKenna, organist.

Escorted to the altar by her father Thomas Lawler Sr. and her step-father, J. Eddie Thornton Sr., the bride wore a formal gown in styling reminiscent of the Victorian era with deep V-neckline of English net outlined with a ruffle of Wedgewood and Venice lace, high beaded neckline of Venice lace and full sheer Bishop sleeves. Tiny covered buttons extended from the back of the neckline to a satin ribbon bow at the waist and gave way to a crystal-pleated skirt edged in a double ruffle Wedgewood lace sweeping to a chapel length train. Her matching hat featured upswept side secured with a silk rose, face veil and illusion pouf at the back with streamers.

She carried a cascade of rosebuds, lily-of-the-valley, sweet peas, bridal wreath and camellias accented with English ivy.

Pass VFW auxiliary entertains hospitalized veterans

Cecil R. Ruddock, VFW Post 5931, Ladies Auxiliary, sponsored a party for the residents of the Dixie White House Nursing Home Aug. 4. This is a monthly party that the auxiliary gives to the patients, as part of a rehabilitation program, through outside contact and visitation to the residents.

They were served homemade cakes, and ice cream. For entertainment, the RSVP Gospel Singers from Bay St. Louis performed. There were six volunteers from the auxiliary, Evelyn Lizana, chairman; Jean Toth, co-chairman; Mary Fedele, Nora Necaise and Georgia Bridges.

A large American flag was donated to Pass Christian Park by Mr. and Mrs. Otis Meyers of Glad Acres, Pass Christian. The flag was given to the Meyers by Mrs. Daisy C. Caswell, also of Pass Christian. The flag will replace one that was stolen.

On hand to help raise the flag was Jesse Morris, past Americanism chairman; Joyce Phillips, auxiliary president and "Boy" Koolsenberg.

The auxiliary donated a $100 check to the Harrison-Hancock County League of 11-12 year-old girls state winning soft-ball team. The money is to help defray the cost of the traveling expenses for the girls.

Four members of the auxiliary visited the County Home For The Aged and talked to the staff about things the residents could use and need. Edith Tabor, chairman took some clothing. The volunteers, Lula Vella, Joyce Phillips, Mary Fedele, and Mrs. Tabor visited the residents.

A party was sponsored by the auxiliary for the residents of the Dixie White House Nursing Home. Cookies and sherbet punch was served, and the RSVP Gospel Singers from Bay St. Louis provided entertainment. A poem was recited by one of the guests called "Heaven's Grocery Store." The volunteers were Georgia Bridges, Mary Fedele, Ernestine Bradley, Evelyn Lizana, chairman; Katherine Morris, Agnes Harshbarger, Jean Toth and Joyce Phillips.

Thirty veterans and two staff members from the VA Hospital in Gulfport were entertained at a luncheon at the post home. The veterans enjoyed a meal of ham with all the trimmings, seated at tables like a side walk cafe, with Buddy Poppies used in decor. There were 11 auxiliary volunteers and four post members.

The group sponsored a coffee break for the residents of the Nursing Home Care Unit at the post home in Pass Christian. There were 8 veterans and two staff members; two auxiliary volunteers, Mary Fedele and Joyce Phillips, one post member, Ed Phillips, hospital chairman for the post.

A birthday party was sponsored by the auxiliary for the residents at the Miramar Lodge Nursing Home. They were served homemade cakes, ice cream and punch. For entertainment, some young girls from the "Petit World of Dancing" from Bay St. Louis performed. Eleven volunteers were present.

Girls' State delegates address Bay auxiliary

Clement R. Bontemps Unit 139 of the American Legion Auxiliary held its regular meeting Monday night. Evelyn Burns, newly installed president, presided.

The Girls' State Chairman presented two of the girls who attended Girls' State in June in Jackson. Stacy Hille and Donna Moran presented a program about their experiences and the things they learned. Stacy was elected sheriff of her county and Donna was elected senator. Both of the girls were very impressed with the program and Stacy would like to return to Girls' State as a junior counselor next year.

Mrs. Lena Cuevas reported she is planning a party for Veterans from the VA Hospital at Gulfport. The party will feature games and refreshments and will be held at the American Legion Home in Bay St. Louis. The date has tentatively been set for either September 28 or October 5. Any member wishing to help with the party or the refreshments should contact Mrs. Cuevas or Evelyn Burns.

Mrs. Burns is in the process of appointing her chairman for the many committees of the auxiliary. The official announcement of the committee chairmen will be made at the next meeting.

Mrs. Clayton Thompson, wife of the 9th District Commander, made a presentation from herself and her husband. They frequently travel with the 9th District President Mrs. Phyllis Moran who is a member of Unit 139. Mrs. Thompson presented Mrs. Moran with a briefcase to use in her travel to visit other units.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held September 13 at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Home on Green Meadow Road.

When the meeting was over a social hour was enjoyed by the members. Mrs. Margaret Prevou and Mrs. Evelyn Burns were the hostesses for this month.

Diamondhead Gardeners slate 1982-83 monthly programs

The Executive Board of the Diamondhead Garden Club met on Wednesday, August 4 at the Country Club. Mrs. Marion Kollasch, president, introduced new Board members and reviewed the work that all Board members would be doing for the year 1982-1983.

Program chairman, Mrs. Peggy Satterlee, outlined the year's programs as follows: September: "Winged Jewels," a program on butterflies by Mrs. John Dyer;

October: Correct Bulb Planting, by Mrs. H.A. Haydel; November: a field trip to Longvue Gardens in Louisiana (husbands to be included); December: The annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Anne Ashman.

January: A program on herbs by Mrs. Grace Finley; February: a tour of the Dupont plant; March: Mrs. Betty Throop, president of the Gulf Coast Judges Council, will give a program on Floral Design; April: a program on Wildflowers, speaker not yet confirmed; May: Dutch-treat party at the Diamondhead Country Club, followed by installation of officers.

In addition to the above, workshops on landscape design will be held under the supervision of Mr. John Davis, area horticulture specialist, on February 2, 9, 16 and 28.

Workshops on flower design will be given by Mrs. Alice Brameyer, national flower show judge (who will be assisted by other judges from the area) in September and October.

A Bonsai Workshop will be given in April by Mrs. Grace Finley.

Mrs. Janet Bell, junior gardeners chairman, said that she was including a pre-school group of 3 to 5 year-olds to her group of first gardeners. They will all be encouraged to participate in a project to landscape the East Recreational Center at Diamondhead, with the children each "adopting" a plant which they will keep properly watered and cared for.

The Garden Club voted to donate a substantial amount to get this project started.

Mrs. Bell also plans a workshop for the children in November, with members of the Diamondhead Club helping instruct them in the making of holiday decorations. Three important dates for 1983 were announced by Mrs. Kollasch: The club's annual participation in Diamondhead's Mardi Gras festivities will be on February 12. The annual Gulf Coast Pilgrimage will be held at Diamondhead on Friday, March 18, and the club's annual Flower Show will be a two day event this year, Friday and Saturday, March 25 and 26.

Submitted by Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, Publicity Chairman.

DAY CARE DIRECTOR

Judy Schuengel is new director of the Lutheran Church of the Pines Day Care Center, first opened in June, 1974. "Our Day Care Center is a Christian service and outreach activity of the Lutheran Church of the Pines. It is operated as a service to the families, parents, and children of the Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and neighboring communities. We recognize the need for quality Christian day care for children of this area," said Mrs. Schuengel. "This fall we will be using the PALS (Pre-school And Learning Skills) program," commented Mrs. Schuengel. "Basically, it is a program which prepares children for first grade. The children will learn the alphabet, some phonics, words, shapes, and numbers, and participate in arts and crafts projects."

Understanding Yourself

"Marriage Blahs"

By Dr. Oswald Hoffmann

Lutheran Hour Speaker

Marriage, as everybody knows, is not all sweetness and light. There are those days when it seems to be more blah than bloom.

Life with a good marriage acquires new meaning.

Yet marriage is one of God's greatest gifts to humanity. Life with a good marriage acquires new meaning, clearer focus, and a kind of divine strength to overcome obstacles which always appear in a lifetime. A good marriage grows better as the years go by.

St. Paul gave some good advice for husbands and wives. "Submit yourselves to one another," he said, "out of your reverence for Christ."

That takes some rearranging of priorities. It also takes love. It takes love like the love of Christ, who gave Himself for the life of the world without any real thought about Himself.

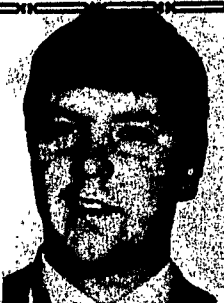

For a free reprint of the Lutheran Hour sermon, "Marriage Blahs," send your name and address to the International Lutheran Laymen's League, 2185 Hampton Avenue, St. Louis, MO 63139.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." — John 10:10

By Shawn Murphy

MINISTER, BAY ST. LOUIS CHURCH OF CHRIST

When an Oriental prince awoke one morning and discovered some of his costly possessions were missing, he summoned his wise men and asked them to find the thief. Most of the wise men did no more than suggest the obvious procedures.

But the wisest of the wise men said, "I'll find the thief with my magic sticks. When one of these sticks is placed near a thief overnight the stick grows two inches. Put your servants in separate cells tonight and I will put a magic stick in each cell. In the morning the thief will be revealed."

The prince agreed to this. The next morning the sticks were gathered and measured, and one stick was found to be two inches shorter than the others. "What kind of nonsense is this?" demanded the prince. "You said one of the sticks would grow longer!"

"True, your majesty, that is what I said. Nevertheless, it has worked as I expected. There is the thief," he pointed to the man who had handed in the shorter stick.

The accused servant promptly confessed, explaining that he knew if any of the sticks grew longer it would be the one in his cell. "The agony I went through last night was terrible," he said. "I kept looking at this stick to see if it would expose me, and I thought I saw it begin to grow. I became so utterly convinced, in my guilt, that it was increasing in length, that finally I cut off two inches so it would be the same size as the others."

This man was suffering from a bad case of acute conscienceitis. Probably no man that ever lived with the exception of Christ has not been plagued by this ir-repressible malady.

Crabbe called it "man's most faithful friend." Ben Franklin declared, "A good conscience is a continual Christmas." Stanislaus added, "Conscience warns us as a friend before it punishes us as a judge." And Punshon concluded, "Conscience asks, is it safe? Expediency asks, is it politic? Vanity asks, is it popular? But conscience asks, is it right?"

"I suppose the bottom line of conscience is 'Am I living right?' According to the moral standards that I understand to be God's will, am I doing what I can and should be doing with my life? Of course by the same token I need to ask the not-so-popular question, am I doing some things or am I involved in some activities that I shouldn't."

While we all know that violating one's conscience is bad we also need to be aware that an uninformed conscience is also deadly. The old saying that 'ignorance is no excuse' rings true in our spiritual as well as civic lives. And the cure for ignorance of God's spiritual guidelines for our lives is the same as the cure for ignorance of our legal codes.

We must study the manual! The manual for our spiritual lives is the Word of God.

Calvin himself wrote, "The torture of a bad conscience is the hell of a living soul."

And this struggling young minister-columnist adds, "A good conscience is a good place to begin enjoying the abundant life to be found in Jesus Christ."

There's An Answer

By Norman Vincent

Peale and Ruth

Stafford Peale

Can't Forget

Q. My son was an accomplice to a break-in at my nephew's home. My nephew could have dropped charges but he didn't. The courts didn't even give my son a trial. His lawyer told him to plead guilty and it would go easy with him. So they sentenced him to four years in prison.

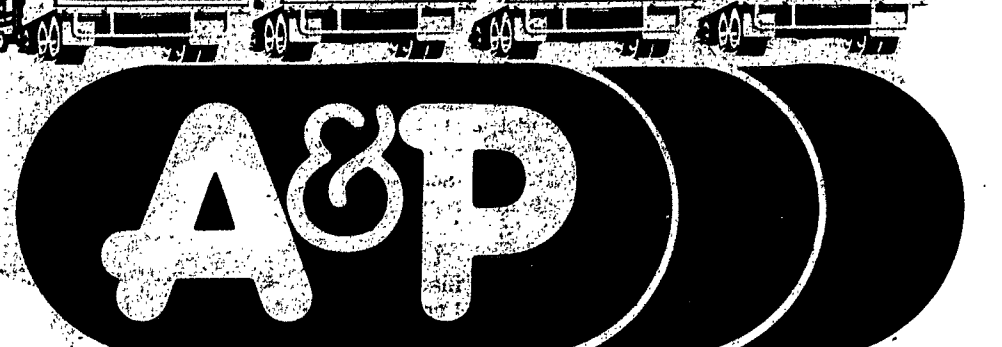

I have been a Christian for 25 years and raised all my children to be Christians. But somehow my youngest son went wrong. I know I should forgive the ones that did him wrong, but I love my son more than myself and would gladly put myself in his place if I could.

Why can't I forgive them in my heart? I am miserable in this state of mind.

A. If your start a chain of forgiveness going it may lead eventually to your son. Forgive others, and forgiveness may be extended to him. Even though it is hard to drop resentment, there is a strange and mystical power flowing from forgiving in the name of Christ.

If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale, write to them at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

1- MISC. SERVICE

1- MISC. SERVICE

The "pickle patch" was an important part of good living in colonial and pioneer days in America. Pickles were the only juicy "green food" available during much of the year, so good homemakers always "put down" some pickles in stone crocks and other containers.

Pickling, to keep food longer, is a long known trick, and it has been written in history that Cleopatra liked pickles not only as a royal treat but also because she felt they contributed to health and beauty.

All through the ages there have been pickle fanciers, among them the founding fathers of our country, and many other notables.

Today's housewife doesn't have to go through the tedious steps, then forebears did and, of course, she can also pick her pickles from among the many, many delicious varieties that line the supermarket shelves.

It's still satisfying, though, even as it was in bygone days, to bring out your own homemade pickles, or condiments, then bask in the compliments. One of my favorites is:

PICKLED OKRA
1 clove garlic to each jar
1 hot pepper to each jar
Dill seed (1 tsp. to each jar)
1 quart vinegar, white
Tender, young okra pods
1 cup water
½ cup salt

Place garlic and hot pepper in the bottom of clean, hot pint jars. Pack firmly with young, clean okra pods, leaving part of the stem on, making sure the stems are not open, to prevent rotting. Add dill seed.

Bring the vinegar, water and salt to a boil. Simmer five minutes or so, then pour, boiling hot, over the okra. Seal at once.

This is delicious as a cocktail tidbit, or as a meal accompaniment, or just for snitching from the refrigerator!

Jackson Old Ladies Home issues appeal

The Old Ladies Home, 2902 West Capitol Street, Jackson, built on property donated by Major Samuel Livingston for whom the adjacent park is named, is now in its 74th year of operation.

This home for elderly ladies is a real home and has been maintained through the years by public support.

Most of the women living at the home are quite elderly. They feel very secure there because they know they will be cared for for the rest of their lives. The home also operates a small hospital in the east wing where ill residents are given skilled nursing care.

The present roster includes former business women, teachers, housewives and spinsters.

The home is non-sectarian and receives no support from the state or federal government. It is a charity funded by gifts from citizens of Mississippi, other friends, and any resources the residents might have.

A board of managers volunteer their services. This year's appeal is especially critical, because inflation rates have increased operating costs of the home.

Tax deductible contributions may be mailed to the Old Ladies Home, 2902 West Capitol Street, Jackson, Miss. 39209.
